Officials Announce Weekend Decision

Hiring was underway today for the Monday re-opening of one Alcoa Plant potline at Rockdale.

Officials announced plans to reopen the first of two idle potlines Saturday. The potlines had been shutdown since late February 1958.

About 60 employees laid off a year ago were recalled immediately, according to Works Manager R. R. Sugg.

He said that improving business conditions, now being reflected in fabricating plants of Alcoa and its customers, prompted the decision to start up additional primary metal facilities.

The Rockdale Works is equipped with six potlines having a total installed capacity to produce 150,000 tons of aluminum each year.

Surplus In 1958

Officials said that production was cut back early last year in an over-all company effort to balance smelter production with inventories and customer requirements for metal.

The Rockdale Alcoa plant has been operating four potlines since the 300-man layoff early last year. About 250 workers from Alcoa and 50 from Industrial Generating, power supplier to the huge plant, were laid off.

The four-potline operation was the original size of first construction in 1951. Two additional potlines were added in 1955 and operated from early 1956 to February, 1958.

Alcoa officials in Pittsburg and Rockdale began discussions on reopening one potline about the middle of last week. The Rockdale Reporter noted a wave of "street talk" before the weekend that officials were considering the move.

Decide Friday

Decision to reopen the potline came Friday afternoon. Official notice of the action was made to The Herald Saturday morning.

Public reaction to the news was highly favorable. The Alcoa and IGC operations employ a total of about 1,500 workers at full six-line production.

The news drew state and nationwide notice. The Rockdale plant is one of two gigantic Alcoa operations in Texas. The second plant is at Point Comfort in South Texas.

It was not yet official how many Cameron and North Milam workers would be affected by the reopening.

Column 99

By Frank M. Luecke

Walter Senkel, of Rt. 2, Cameron, had a prize to catch late last week. Or he would continue losing chickens to the unseen marauders.

But last Saturday night, the last of 10 traps snapped closed on one of Senkel's visitors, a 27-pound bobcat. Senkel says the cat had tripped all 10 traps set out and two got him. He finished off the bobcat with his shotgun.

Senkel said Monday he would set out more traps to get the mate of the big cat. The pair had carried away 50 to 60 hens from his farm three miles west of Jones Prairie.

Cameron will soon have two "Welcome to Cameron" signs erected on highways entering Milam's county seat.

Local members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce emplaced sign poles Tuesday and planned other work to complete the signs. A third sign will go up at the east city limits while the first two are being erected at US 77 north and SH 36 west.

99-99-99

The wonderland of displays at the Cameron Science Fair showed that Cameron school students are gaining a greater interest in the academics of physical and biological sciences.

Officials said that a large number of students attended the showing, held Friday night at Yoe gymnasium.

Their interest shows realization that science subjects and things academic can be fun as well as interesting. Staff sponsors of the show said that attendance at the second annual showing was considerably heavier than in 1958.

99-99-99

One youngster's creation, an electrostatic generator, really worked well. Sparks jumped from a copper hand lode to the generator in "shocking" fashion.

We noted a group of youngsters grouped around the device, handling the hand gadget around and sparking some lively laughs in the crowd.

She ingenuity and preparation put young fertile minds to work on really instructive problems.

Introducing . . .

The Herald presents another new column this week with the addition of "Do You Remember?", a review of news of Cameron and Milam County 40 years ago.

Herald Sponsors 'Paint-Up' Drive

Got some paint around the house?

Now's the time to use it during The Cameron Herald's second annual "Spring Paint-Up" campaign starting this week.

The Herald will publish a weekly list of participating homeowners, businesses and individuals in the hope of listing practically all of Cameron's 1800 homes and businesses.

The improvement need not be a major paint or repair job, but some tangible improvement in the appearance of the property, inside or out.

The program co-incides with city drive to improve Cameron's appearance and an annual Paint Up, Clean Up campaign sponsored by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce each April. The "Spring Paint-Up" campaign will continue through the Chamber drive.

When you complete your painting or fix-up improvements, call The Herald and ask that your name or firm be added to the honor roll.

A number of firms already have started brightening up for spring this week and residents are busy trimming hedges and cutting grass for the spring growing season.

Workers at the Yoe School Campus are trimming hedges and preparing lawns for spring. And city workers have been collecting accumulations of trash and tree limbs during the past two weeks.

Firms already gaining places on the honor roll include: Wiese Lumber Co., Milam County Farm Bureau, Cameron Auto Supply, Milam Theatre, Lewis-Chili Shoe Store, New Cameron Drug, McIntosh's Schigut's, Farley's Diner, Fuchs Hatchery, Hornung Hatchery, Bernice's and Mack's Oil Co.

The Herald will publish names of additional firms and homeowners making spring improvements each week for the next month.

It was not yet official how many Cameron and North Milam workers would be affected by the reopening.

Final Tally Is Five Candidates

Incumbent officials on the Cameron City Council and School Board will go unopposed in April elections as filing deadlines passed without other candidates' filing.

Councilmen Richard Moseley, Lincoln Mondrik and Hayden Lawrence drew no opponents as the Saturday filing deadline passed. The city election will be Tuesday, April 7.

On the school board, incumbents Niley J. Smith and Dr. David Shapiro will be candidates for re-election on the April 4 school district ballot.

Officials predicted a light vote in both elections since incumbent officials are unopposed.

The three councilmen filed for second two-year terms in February. Other councilmen are Sam Houston and Roy Griffith.

Other members of the Cameron Independent District school board are Mrs. Dana Monroe, Max Howard, Dr. Gus Evans, F. W. Vogelsang and President H. B. Pressley.

Dr. Shapiro is completing his first three-year term while Smith is completing the unexpired term of Don Humble.

City Clears Way For Marak Road

The City Council Tuesday cleared final city right-of-way with a $2500 settlement to Matt Zarosky Sr. for Marak road clearance cutting across about two acres of his land.

Officials said the settlement cleared the city's part of right-of-way for the scheduled 10-mile farm-to-market road that will intersect SH 36 near the west Cameron city limits.

The right-of-way involved about 170 feet of highway frontage. The new road will cross the Zarosky property east of the present county roadway going toward Marak and Yarellton.

Councilmen also called for bids on the city lot on US 77 east which will be vacated for public sale. The city has moved an equipment shed to another location in southeast Cameron.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

THE FRANCISCAN PADRES

Ambassadors of Liberty and Enlightenment

Just a mile from the little city of Menard, Texas, a mute testimonial to the bravery and martyrdom of three dedicated Franciscan Fathers, still stands the ruins of the Presidio San Luis de las Amarillas. More than 200 years ago, at the request of the Lipan Apache Indians, Spanish missionaries and soldiers came to the banks of the San Saba River to advance the frontier and spread Christianity. The Comanche Indians, enemies of the Apaches, were suspicious of the mission San Saba and on March 13, 1758, came in the guise of friendship, asking admission. Skeptical, yet welcoming anyone who wished to receive their religious teachings, the Fathers opened the gates. In the massacre that followed all were killed save one, who lived to reach the soldiers in the Presidio, two miles away, and report the tragedy. Today the names of the Franciscan Padres who gave their lives to bring enlightenment to the wilderness are inscribed on a historical marker at the mission site and in the memories of all who revere selfless courage and devotion to faith.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland, "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close co-operation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self Regulation program.

Wilson Gives Views On Position Of State Supported Universities

Following is the first in a series by two of our state's outstanding educators concerning the competitive position of our state-supported colleges and universities and what it means to you.

BY DR. LOGAN WILSON
President, The University of Texas

Everybody realizes, that our leadership and perhaps even our national survival are being challenged. More of our citizens must be brought to realize that the preservation of our state and nation depends no less upon the strength of our educational system than upon the strength of our military establishment and that in these uncertain times our capacity for self-government, and particularly for strong state government, is being put to the test as never before.

My purpose in this writing is not to present the case for The University forms a capstone and the state-supported system of higher education of which our University forms a capstone and integral part. The fate of that system for the next decade or so will be vitally affected by some decisions to be made within the next few months. I want to review briefly some basic challenges to be met.

Challenge to Our Nation

In this highly competitive world, there is a growing realization that our American educational institutions are not as strong as they ought to be. Prior to Sputnik, unfortunately, not too much attention was paid to the oft-repeated story of low teachers' salaries, crowded classrooms, inferior libraries and laboratories, easy academic standards, and so on. Since then, fortunately, we have been doing some stock-taking.

What are some of the findings? Here are a few startling ones.

On the average, professors in this country are paid at a rate about two and a half times that of manual laborers; in Russia the corresponding rate is 16 to 1 or, to take a look at student-teacher ratios, we find the following:

Moscow University, 6.6 to 1; Harvard 3.3 to 1, Illinois, 5.4 to 1; California 7.7 to 1; The University of Texas, 16 to 1.

It should also be noted that in this country we are allocating only between 2 and 3 per cent of our Gross National Product to education on all levels, while the Russians are assigning about 10 per cent of their Gross National Product to this important endeavor.

We can afford to spend more on education, but to do so we must assign a higher priority to the importance of teaching and research as crucial enterprises. We must be willing to make some sacrifices and to forego some present comforts for our future security and prosperity.

As someone has said, Americans know the difference between good and bad roads — they must come to know the difference between good and bad education and determine to settle only for the good. Mere talk will not get the job done.

Our educational problems will be solved only by a hard-headed insistence upon investment in improved quality. All of our citizens must take a real interest in educational standards and accomplishments and must be willing to pay higher taxes to support our state schools and make heavier voluntary contributions to support our private institutions.

Milam County $110,000 National Guard Armory Nears Completion

The new $110,000 National Guard Armory in Cameron, which has been under construction for the past several months, is rapidly nearing completion, it was reported this week.

The new Armory is being built for the use of Milam County's National Guard unit, Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion.

The structure is estimated to be about four-fifths completed at this time. Work on the roof was finished last week. Also the last section of concrete floor in the drill hall was being poured by construction crews.

Still remaining to be done is the tile work on the two rest rooms and painting of offices and partitions in class rooms.

All of the outdoor work on the sidewalks and a large black-top parking area for automobiles also remains to be completed.

The new building is located on a 20 acre tract the National Guard owns here in west Cameron. It adjoins the vehicle storage building which Battery C has been using as an Armory since 1950. Constructed of reinforced concrete tile and face brick, the building measures 108 feet wide by 116 feet long, with a 4 foot entrance way that brings the total length to 120 feet. The interior includes offices, class rooms, a kitchen, storage and supply rooms, locker and rest rooms. There is also a drill hall measuring 60 by 93 feet.

Explorer Scouts Tour Huntsville Facilities

Nine Explorer Scouts and their sponsors enjoyed a trip to Huntsville State Prison Saturday morning.

Coffield Construction Company of Rockdale is contractor on the $110,000.00 project.

Troop 85 left Cameron at 8:30 Saturday morning under the direction of Chief of Police Chester Simons and arrived in Huntsville at 10:30 where they were led on a guided tour of the prison that included class rooms, metal shop, the rodeo grounds, farm grounds and parts of the prison now under construction.

The Scout Troop plans to enter and exhibit in the coming Scout-O-Rama along with several other activities.

Transportation for the Huntsville trip was furnished by Ben Edmunds and Gene Kirk.

A new sport sedan is now available through Earl Pearson Chevrolet, 100 S. Travis.

The car is in the Bell Air series and was inspired by universal admiration for the distinctive 1959 "hardtop" styling introduced exclusively as an Impala sport sedan. The Bel Air model makes available the same sportive appearance at a more moderate price, according to Earl Pearson, local dealer.

E. N. Cole, general manager of Chevrolet, says the new model results from retail market soundings that indicated strong sales sentiment.

The sport sedan, or "four-door hardtop" as it is more popularly known, is comparatively new in the postwar automotive field. Patterned after the two-door hardtop in which side windows roll completely into the body, the car boasts superlative visibility and a light, airy appearance.

In the 1959 Chevrolet overall design, the sport sedan is especially attractive and two inches lower than other Bel Air models. The roof is flat and overhangs the compound curvature of the broad rear window. Features of the two other sedans in the Bel Air series are otherwise incorporated. Luxury interior appointments and upholstery color-keyed to exteriors are points in common. Body identifications include a full-length, stainless steel molding with a depressed Snowcrest White central area and the Bel Air name in script.

In addition to the new Bell Air Chevy, Earl Pearson offers a complete line of popular priced new Chevrolet cars and trucks. Pearson also operates an OK used car lot at 1st and Crockett Streets directly behind his new car show room.

A veteran of 23 years in Chevrolet sales, service and parts, Pearson is also experienced in auto financing through GMAC and offers installment financing of reasonable repair bills.

"We also feature auto insurance on our new and used cars," Pearson continues.

"Our aim is to give honest, dependable service that continues long after the sale of a new 1959 Chevrolet or an OK used car," he adds. "We want the confidence of our customers, lasting customers. The best way we know to keep their confidence is with straightforward business dealing."

By J. D. Moore

Livestock and poultry entries from Milam County placing in the Houston Fat Stock Show were as follows: Heavy herefords, Joyce Fuchs 25th; medium Weight Herefords, Jeannette Richter, 10th; Heavy Shorthorns, Carrol Wayne Glaser, 2nd and James Edward Glaser, 4th; Middle Weight Shorthorn, Pat McClaren, 4th; Curtis Fuchs, 7th and Nan McClaren, 8th; Light Weight Shorthorns, Lamar Gresak, 10th, Jeannette Fuchs 14th and Arvell Jungmann, 15th. In the Angus classes, Jay Parmelee placed his entry 9th and Jan Parmelee's calf failed to place.

In the swine division, Roy Dean Tomasek placed his Duroc barrow 10th in the middle weight and Hal Lester Senkel placed his Berkshire 10th.

Swine entries shown in other breeds were two Yorkshire barrows bred by Dr. Tittsworth and shown by Charles Kirk. One of these entries 1st and was reserve champion. The other entry placed 3rd.

In the Dairy classes, Johnnie Ray Richter placed his Jersey in the blue ribbon group and Martin Jistel drew a red ribbon on his entry.

In the Broiler show Hal Senkel placed in the top twenty, with Eugene Michalka, Edmund Michalka, Joyce Fuchs, Arvell Jungmann and Larry Jungmann all placing in the show. No broilers were sited and all will be in the sale.

Sale of all entries took place Friday, March 6. The sale report has not reached us at this writing.

C of C Broiler Program

The county broiler program got off to a good start and should produce good results this year. All growers are urged to follow good practices for good growth. Adequate space is important. A 12 by 14 foot space is adequate for show broilers. More space is better. Ventilation should be provided for good growth and to promote good feathering. Pin feathers are objectionable in market birds. Plenty of fresh air will help prevent pin feathers. With the approach of warm weather, fresh, clean water should be available at all times.

A good broiler mash should be fed and this should be supplemented by yellow corn. Yellow corn meal adds yellow color to the bird to show finish. The birds will be judged on these points: Fleshing, finish, and feathering. All five of the birds should show these characteristics for a uniform group.

The show will be held on Saturday, May 2. About two weeks before the show, the growers should select 10 or 12 of their top birds and separate them from the rest of the flock. This is to favor the better birds for a show exhibit.

Also, the grower should feed these selected birds a wet mash two or three times a day for increased feed consumption. The broiler mash mixed with raw eggs and a small amount of milk makes a good wet mash.

Good litter is necessary in the broiler house to prevent blisters and bruises on the breast of the birds. These conditions lower the grade and placing in the show. No roosts are needed as this will cause dents in the breast. Let the broilers roost on the floor. The proper amount of litter on the floor will protect the birds.

Protect the broilers from stray cats, hawks and skunks and other predators by having them properly enclosed and protected with poultry wire.

Growers are urged to write their sponsors a letter occasionally to let them know how they are getting along. For the new growers we have a lot of "know-how" available. Please ask for any information needed.

For Higher Yields Early Planting Suggested

Dr. J. W. Collier

Blackland Experiment Station
As March approaches and the weather becomes warmer, many farmers get an urge to start planting their corn and grain sorghum.

Some like to be the first to plant, some have shallow droughty soils and must plant early, and many have found that early planting generally results in higher yields on most any soil.

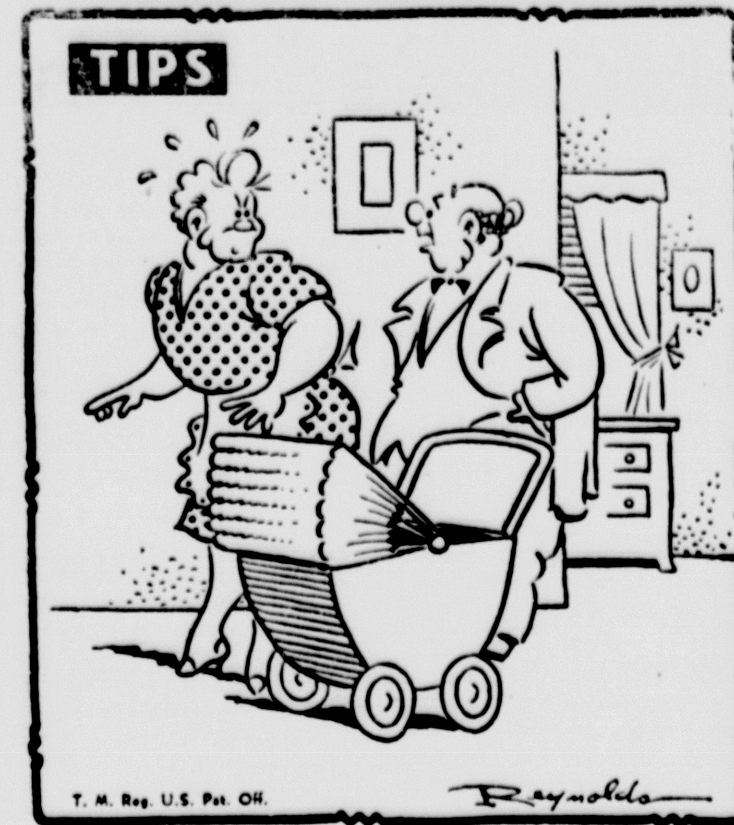

In the central Blackland area the majority of the corn crop will silk and tassel from June 1 to June 20 and the grain sorghum crop usually heads or blooms during the month of June. It is fairly well established that the critical period in growth and development of both corn and grain sorghum is after silking or blooming.

So in most of the Blackland area the critical period for these crops is the month of June and part of July.

At Temple, the 45-year mean maximum temperatures are 85, 92 and 96 degrees for the months of May, June and July, respectively.

During the same 45 year period, the chances of receiving an inch of rainfall in a two-week period were about six out of ten years around the first of June but only two out of ten years around the first of July.

These are probably the main reasons why early plantings are fairly consistent in producing higher yields than later planting over

Silage From Grasses

Highly palatable silage can be made from spring grasses and clovers when conditions are not favorable for hay making, says research workers of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Plastic covers and sodium bisulfite preservative were used to reduce spoilage and improve the silage quality. The tests were conducted at the Rice-Pasture substation located near Beaumont.

Fresh water for laying hens is just as important in winter as in summer. To make one egg, a hen must drink about a pint of water.

1,000-pound-per-acre Increase in Maize Grain

J. O. Alexander, prominent Wellborn farmer, says: "My results with Phillips 66 Ammonia have been very satisfactory. Maize grain yields were increased 1,000 pounds to the acre; and my irrigated cotton averaged 560 pounds of lint per acre. As a test I used the ammonia on 15 rows of cotton. This cotton kept right on making after the unfertilized rows had quit."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be applied pre-plant or as a side dressing. It can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

View On Sports

By Robert Mann
Herald Sports Editor

Cameron has accepted an in- vitation to participate in the an- nual Cotton Boll Relays held in Taylor March 14.

The relays have been in opera- tion for the past four years and have the reputation of being one of the largest events of its kind in Texas with over fifty schools expected to enter.

The Taylor Chamber of Com- merce informs us that the hotels and restaurants will be prepared to handle anyone from Cameron or the surrounding area that at- tends the meet.

Preliminaries will start at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. The finals at 7:30 that night with the presentation of the 1959 Queen. Trophies will be awarded at 10 p.m.

V O S
Coach Speer is now bearing down with his baseball team and apparently seems well on his way to a good opening game showing.

He has come up with five de- pendable pitchers. The outstanding one of the group could be young Ernest Bayer, all-district in foot- ball and no doubt will give an equally strong effort on the dia- mond.

Rodney Folschinsky, senior, has tried his hand at hurling. David Barkemeyer, sophomore, and a southpaw shows a good deal of promise. Carrol Fikes and Pat Dil- lon are two more that Speer is counting to carry their share of the team.

V O S
Joe Michaelka, the only Yoe High graduate to ever receive a four year basketball scholarship was among the starting five at East Texas State Teachers College this past season. East Texas State finished second in their conference.

ARMY PVT. Anton V. Mayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vaclav J. # Albert Schweitzer Film To Be Shown

"Albert Schweitzer", the feature- length film biography of the Nobel Prize winning "jungle doctor" will be shown Tuesday at the Milam Theatre.

Five years in the making, the Academy Award winning "Albert Schweitzer" was produced and di- rected by Jerome Hill in the jungle village of Lambarene, French Equa- torial Africa, and at his child- hood town of Gumbach, France. Dr. Schweitzer, who appears throu- ghout the film, also wrote the com- mentary which is spoken by Fred- eric March. Additional narration, written by Thomas Bruce Morgan, has been recorded by Bur- gess Meredith.

The picture traces Schweitzer's life from birth. It brings him through the time of his awesome decision, at the age of 20, to start his jungle hospital, thus deflect- ing a brilliant career as philos- opher, theologian and organist. The second half of the film en- compasses a full day in the hos- pital-village with Schweitzer, now in his 20's, still the very active head of the world-renowned com- munity he founded. The footage al- so includes Schweitzer at the or- gan in Gumbach, playing a Bach prelude.

In the scenes about his child- hood, Dr. Schweitzer's own grand- son portrays the young Albert, and the great man's mother is represented by his real-life sister.

Among the notices received by the film showing have been: "An- the of the greatest and most in- triguing men alive today." From Bennett Cerf in This Week Maga- zine: "Beautifully photographed."

Thoroughly interesting", Time Magazine: "Beyond the power of critical words to assess. This is a picture story that should reinforce the pride mankind can take in this man." The New York Post.

Religious and educational lead- ers have recommended the film in comments such as "A picture you shouldn't miss.... The entire film radiates Schweitzer's philoso- phy of 'Reverence For Life' " by the Catholic Preview of Entertain- ment. And from the Rev. Dan Potter, Executive Director, Pro- testant Council of the City of New York: "Every organization in the churches should see this film. Sun- day School classes, Missionary or- ganizations and Fellowship groups in fact, every member of every congregation — will feel a sense of inspiration from this man. Doc- tor Albert Schweitzer is indeed one of the most eloquent sermons ever lived."
